

Prefrontal cortex: The most anterior subdivision of the frontal cortex located behind the forehead. It is considered to be the seat of language, planning, reasoning, visual attention and memory.

